WHAT TO DO AND HOW TO DO IT.

The wife of one of Bryan's leading business men and most influential citizens called up the editor last night to talk about our editorial addressed to the women of Bryan in yesterday's Eagle. She said she indorsed every word of it and thought it was just the kind of talk to get results. But she added that the women are inexperienced in public affairs and want information about what to do and how to do it. She said she had tried to do something as an individual—had made complaints to the mayor until he had taken to dodging around corners to avoid meeting her. She and other ladies are not only willing but anxious to do anything they can to improve the existing disgraceful condition, but they don't know how to get at it. Nothing can be done without organization. It is hard for any individual, woman or man, to secure even a respectful hearing from an official, but when one goes as the representative of the women of Bryan, depend upon it, there will be something doing, for every officer knows that the women of Bryan can beat any man for office who refuses or fails to give them a square deal.

The first thing is to call a meeting. Consult together, agree upon the time and place, write a call, get it signed by as many as possible, each using her personal influence to secure a large attendance. At the first meeting it would perhaps be better to effect only a temporary organization, appoint a committee on by-laws and such other committees as may be necessary. A great deal depends on having good officers. The office should seek the woman. Choose the best material, especially for president, secretary and members of the executive board. It is, therefore, best not to be hasty in making the selection.

It is the duty and will be the pleasure of the secretary of the Commercial Club to give you such advice and assistance as you may need. If you think it necessary The Eagle will assist you in bringing to Bryan some woman who has had experience in civic improvement work to advise you. If you go at it right and make no breaks, you will find it lots of fun—a thousand times more than you get in your little gossip clubs. That any woman with a soul can find more pleasure in picking characters to pieces than in cleansing and beautifying her home town is inconceivable.

HARD WORK WINS.

If the people of Leon county do not appreciate the Centerville Record it is because they don't know a good thing when they see it. It is one of the best weeklies that comes to our table. The reason of this excellence is explained in this extract from its last number:

"It is not only all day long, but often far into the night that the Record editor and his faithful wife work, dig and delve to make this paper not only worth but more than worth the subscriber's dollar, and both of us are proud of the success that is beginning in a measure to reward our efforts."

The editor of The Eagle and his wife once had a similar experience and know how hard it is. But we are now on Easy street, comparatively, as our brother and sister of the Record will be some sweet day.
